

Hawai'i-Pacific Evaluation Association Proudly Presents

Lunch with Roger Chesswas

“Pacific-CHILD Study: An Inside View”

Roger Chesswas, Ph.D., Director of Research and Chief Operations Officer for Pacific Resources for Education and Learning (PREL), has over 30 years of experience in conducting educational evaluation projects in diverse settings such as the United States, Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

During this lunch, Roger will discuss the research design of the Pacific-CHILD (Communities with High Standards in Literacy Development) Study, a professional development program designed to increase student achievement by improving the classroom practices of 4th- and 5th-grade teachers. He will talk about using a random control trial with mixed methods in educational evaluation, instrumentation, recruitment strategies, and retention techniques.

Don't miss this opportunity to learn from an evaluation expert!
